Water Views

Are you looking for something out of town and love to live by the water.....then look no further! Just coming onto the rental market is this home that has some renovations just being finished off. Both bedrooms are a good size and the living room has extensive views of the water. There are two good size decks that you could enjoy entertaining outdoors. There is a solar power system as well. The block is large so you will need a ride on mower or maybe employ someone to do this. Ideal if you do not want the neighbors too close. A carport for the car and a good size lockup shed for all your bits and pieces that you need to secure. This is definitely a no pet property.
